

You will find that the most difficult task will be deciding what to sell.
My advice is to take it slow, research the ebay market and educate yourself to how drop shipping works.

Storage Unit Auctions

This is one of my favorites. Many times huge storage units full of abandoned merchandise can be purchased for as little as a couple hundred dollars! These sales are not highly published and finding out about them can take a little leg work. I recommend using your yellow pages and calling all the top storage facilities in your area to find out what their seized property sale procedures are. The legwork could pay off nicely. I know it does for me!

Below is a link to a site that can give you a little more information on this exciting, but little known way, to acquire a great inventory of merchandise to resell on eBay for HUGE potential profits!
